Cartographic Rome: Interview with Professor Cothran Ceen

Join us on a cartographic walk through Rome as we explore the city with Professor Cothran Ceen during our Cartography course. Using a variety of maps, students retrace the ancient routes of various Roman neighborhoods, learning how the urban landscape has transformed over the past 2000 years. In her incredible studio, Professor Ceen discusses the origin of the course and what we can learn about the present by revisiting the layers of the Eternal City's built environment.

Visit to PSU

Earlier this month, we were fortunate enough to visit Penn State where two of our Studio professors, Lavinia Nannini and Alessio Rosati, participated in various mid-semester reviews for 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th year architecture students. A big thank you to the PSU Architecture faculty for their incredible hospitality.
